1. Reference is made to letter, Headquarters, Army Security Agency, Europe, subject: "Siemens and Halske," dated 5 December 1951.

2. The numerous Post World War II cryptologic developments currently taking place in Western Germany leave little if any doubt that an official Cryptographic Security and Communications Intelligence Agency will be reactivated by the Federal Republic of Germany as soon as such shall be legal.

3. Reports indicate that West Germany research and development in cryptographic security has reached a level comparable to that achieved by the U. S. in 1945. Thus, once the German Peace Treaty is signed,
