

BORIS HAGELIN

Zug, Oct. 3.1961.

Dear Bill:

Just a few lines, to thank you for the kind reception of Sture!

And also to give you an answer to your question re "Astarte". In my Swedish dictionary the goddess in question was described as the goddess of love, and that orgiaistic rites were performed to her glory in the temples. So I think it was a good choice. But apart from that: I needed a name which sounded well, of a female, and furthermore a name not registered for a Swedish yacht. Karl-Wilhelm, who masterminded the construction of the boat, is as you know, a physician, and he was prepared to take care of eventual consequences.

We were happy to hear that you liked the clock, and we hope that it will keep correct time as long as you wind it regularly.

Affectionate regards to Elizebeth and yourself from your old friends Annie and

